

Absolutely Amazing!

Our familiar friends like Horrid Henry and Penny Dreadful love World Records! Whether it's a dinosaur or a supercar there is plenty for your own 'record-breaking' child to read. Don't forget to bring your child to any of Slough's Libraries this summer so that they can take part in our Summer Reading Challenge – which just happens to be called - Record Breakers!

Dinosaur Record Breakers by Darren Naish

Millions of years ago, when the dinosaurs roamed the Earth, you had to be extreme to survive. This book is packed with astounding facts and statistics about the record-breaking prehistoric creatures. Will appeal to dinosaur loving children everywhere.

The Wibbly Wobbly Jelly Belly Flop by Steve Hartley

Danny and his friends are bravely trying to break the world records for jelly belly flopping, custard pie flinging and picking up baked beans while wearing boxing gloves! The competition is tough, but Danny is determined to hop, skip and 'boing' his way to a gold medal - and a new world record! Silly fun for seven year olds and above.

Guinness World Records 2015

Latest edition of the Guinness World Records celebrates their landmark anniversary as well as showcasing the very best of the most recent world records. For those aged eight and over that like their facts to be fun and fascinating.

Speed Machines by Miranda Smith

'Kingfisher Knowledge' is a comprehensive, dynamic series for readers hungry for information on today's hot topics. Using lively, engaging text and digital artwork, the series covers a great range of subjects and issues. Fast facts for those aged seven and above.

Biggest and Smallest by Camilla de Bédoyère

Find out about some of the largest, tallest, smartest and smallest animals in the world, what is great about being tall? What is useful about being small? Packed with loads of facts for interested animal lovers aged seven and over.

The Smallest Horse in the World by Jeremy Strong

Swan calls Bella mean names and shows off about her parents' money. She says she has a pool, and dolphins, and a horse. But Bella has a horse too – a wonderfully strange and magical little horse!

Tiny fun for those aged seven years and upwards.

For the Records by Ellie Irving

Luke is a gifted but awkward ten-year-old who is obsessed with world records. When Luke's tiny Jersey village is in danger of being bulldozed to the ground to make way for a waste incinerator plant, the only way to stop it is by putting the village on the map - by breaking 50 world records in a week. For nine year olds and above.

Mo Farah: Olympic Hero by Simon Hart

Find out more about Mo Farah. From his beginnings in Africa as a schoolboy champion, to an Olympic hero on Super Saturday at London 2012. From children aged seven and over that like an inspirational read.

Supercars by Ian Graham

Start your engines and hold tight! Explores the world's fastest machines including space rockets and bullet trains. A fast race through facts for speed loving children aged eight and above.

Hooey Higgins goes for Gold by Steve Woake

Get yourself a ticket to the Shrimpton-on-Sea Games. See Hooey hitting the high jump. Samantha wanging the welly. Twig versus Basbo in the sprint. And what is their secret weapon? Cheese. But we're not talking any old fromage here - this is the ancient Greek sporting Cheese of Champions. Feta fun for seven year olds and older.