

Slough Learning Disability Partnership Board

Hello and welcome!

Giuseppe Di Martino
LD and Autism Commissioner

Slough Learning Disability Partnership Board

The Slough Learning Disability Partnership Board wants to improve the lives of people with a learning disability, their families, and carers by challenging inequalities, influencing decisions about services, and preventing the need for specialised support.

Slough Learning Disability Partnership Board

What the Learning Disability Partnership Board does

- Oversees the Action Plan included in the Adult Learning Disability Strategy
- Ensures Co-Production becomes the normal and expected way of working.
- Makes sure learning disability services are of good quality.
- Makes recommendations and influence decisions about services.
- Creates and shares information in accessible format.
- Informs people about what is happening in Slough.
- Promotes the rights of people with learning disability, their families, and carers.

Slough Learning Disability Partnership Board

For a successful Learning Disability Partnership Board that can bring about change, it is important that all the right people are members.

We want to hear what people with learning disability, their families and carers want, so we would like to invite them to join the group.

By joining, you will help shape the future of Learning Disability Services in Slough.

Other members include professionals working in health and social care and other relevant services (housing, DWP, etc).

Slough Learning Disability Partnership Board

The Slough Learning Disability Partnership Board will meet once every three months

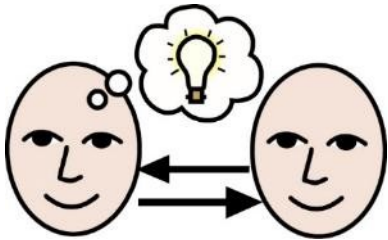

Members will be supported during meetings by:

- Ensuring they have a voice.
- Using simple language, no jargon.
- Extra time after the meetings to discuss specific topics.

Notes of the meetings will be published in easy read format.
